SOVIET MEDICAL INDUSTRY
TOPS PRODUCTION QUOTAS

On 21 December 1949, the Moscow Chemicopharmaceutical Factory imeni Karpov completed its December production quotas. The authorities at the "Akrikhin" Factory went one step further and announced that the annual quota had been completed on 21 December 1949. Moreover, the plant has started producing semifinished products for the manufacture of pyramilon.

The Leningrad "Farmakon" Chemicopharmaceutical Factory has already produced several million rubles worth of goods above plan. Equipment for a new shop was completed on 21 December 1949. Production efficiency has saved 1,250 thousand tons of raw material, and at present the production per square meter of shop space has been increased by 12 kilograms. The Khar'kov "Zdorov'ye Trudnyashchinsys" Chemicopharmaceutical Factory has completed its annual production quotas. Several thousands of rubles worth of above-quota medical preparations will be produced before the end of the year. The bandage shop of the factory is unique in that 70 percent of its employees have completed their 5-year quotas.

The workers of the Riga Pharmaceutical Factory have completed their assigned quotas. A new shop has been organized for the production of medicinal preparations on a semiindustrial basis. Above-quota production is valued at 650,000 rubles and has been made possible by economic utilization of raw materials.

The Moscow Factory of Electrical Medical Apparatus (EMA) has completed December quotas and has started production on a new line of equipment for Franklinization. On 9 December 1949, the Stalingrad Factory for Medical Equipment completed its annual production quotas.

Workers of the Moscow "Tekhnolog" Factory celebrated Stalin's 70 birthday by initiating the production of several new types of equipment. Production for the year will include 1.5 million rubles worth of above-quota production.

The Klin Laboratory Glass Factory has apparently recovered from its production doldrums and has completed its annual production quota as of 21 December. Other glass factories have also improved production schedules. For example the "Industriya" Glass Factory completed its annual production schedules and is now working on an above-quota basis.
